Conference	August, 22-24, 2007

The aim of CHINACOM is to bring together Chinese and International players in networking and communications under one roof, building a showcase in communications and networking research in China. Following the big success of the first of its series (i.e., CHINACOM 2006), CHINACOM will be held in Shanghai, one of the biggest metropolises in the world.

CHINACOM is being positioned as the premier international annual conference for the presentation of original and fundamental research advances in the field of Communications, Networks, and Internet Applications. The conference will consist of Technical Symposia and Workshops.

PAPERS: The conference invites original technical papers that were not previously published and are not currently under review for publication elsewhere. Authors are invited to submit papers to the following symposia:

Symposium Title	Co-Chairs
Frontiers on Communications and Networking	Zhihua Guo, Lenovo (quozh@lenovo.com) Stefan Mangold, Swisscom Innovations (stefan.mangold@swisscom.com)
Optical Communications and Networking	Indra Widjaja, Bell Labs, Lucent Technologies (iwidjaja@lucent.com) Pin-Han Ho, University of Waterloo (pinhan@bcr.uwaterloo.ca)
Wireless Communications and Networking	Petri Mahonen, RWTH Aachen University (Petri.mahonen@mobnets.rwth-aachen.de) Chonggang Wang, University of Arkansas (cqwang@uark.edu) Wenye Wang, North Carolina State University (wwang@ncsu.edu)
Advances in Internet	Minglu Li, Shanghai Jiao Tong University (mlli@sjtu.edu.cn) Junzhong Gu, East China Normal University (izqu@cs.ecnu.edu.cn) Jie Wu, Florida Atlantic University (jie@cse.fau.edu)

PANELS/WORKSHOPS: Proposals for panels/workshops are solicited. Potential chairs are requested to submit a proposal to one of the panel/workshop Chairs by March 15th, 2007 for review (leizd@i2r.a-star.edu.sg; bernard.uguen@insa-rennes.fr; haifeng.wang@nokia.com; wasim.malik@eng.ox.ac.uk).

SUBMISSION INSTRUCTIONS: Conference language is English. Prospective authors are encouraged to submit a PDF version of the full paper in IEEE conference proceedings format, which are limited to 5 two-column pages in a 10-points font. All paper submissions will be handled electronically. Please submit the paper through the COCUS System, <http://cocus.info>. Visit the conference website <http://www.chinacom.org/2007/submissions.html> for detailed submission requirements and procedures.

PUBLICATION: All submitted papers will go through a peer review process. All accepted papers will be included in the CHINACOM 2007 Conference Proceedings. All accepted papers will be made available in IEEE Explore Digital Library and then be indexed by Engineering Information (EI). Selected papers from CHINACOM2007 will be considered for Computer Networks and Ad Hoc Networks.

STUDENT TRAVEL GRANTS: Applications are invited from qualified graduate students. Up to 10 awards are expected.
